When such additions or minor amendments are made by the State Registrar, a notation as to the source of the information together with the date the change was made shall be maintained in such a way as not to become a part of any certification issued. The certificate is not to be marked "Amended".
 - (b) The State Registrar may at his discretion accept an affidavit only to correct inaccurate information recorded on a certificate within the first year after the date of the event. The affidavit must be signed and sworn to by the individual, institutional representative, clerk or funeral director who originally provided the information for the certificate or prepared the certificate. If the requested correction compromises the integrity of the record, the State Registrar may require supporting documentation or a court order to amend the certificate. The certificate will be marked "Amended".
- (2) All Other Amendments.
 - (a) Unless otherwise provided in these rules or by statute, all other amendments to vital records shall be supported by:
 - 1. an affidavit signed by one of the persons defined in 1200-7-1-.10(3) setting forth the information to identify the certificate, the incorrect data as it is listed on the certificate, and the correct data as it should appear; and

 - (i) one item of documentary evidence which was created before the registrant's tenth birthday which supports the correct date of birth, or
 - (ii) a transcript of the Federal Census which next followed the registrant's birth to establish the year of birth and a document which was made prior to the registrant's twenty-first birthday which supports the correct date of birth, or
 - (iii) to amend only a day of birth (with month and year to remain as originally recorded) documentary evidence established before the registrant's twenty-first birthday that supports the correct date of birth.
 4. To amend the records for births that occurred more than seventy years prior to the application, the State Registrar may at his discretion require documentary evidence only. The documents must be at least five years old at the time of amendment.
 5. Any item on a certificate may be corrected by an order of a court of record with the exception of the date of filing, the signature of the certifier, and changing the date of birth to a date which is after the date of filing. A certified copy of the order must be submitted to the State Registrar.
 6. An item that was established by court order on a certificate can only be amended by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, preferably the court which granted the original decree. A certified copy of the order signed by the clerk of the court must be submitted to the State Registrar.
 7. A legal change of name order from a court of competent jurisdiction is required to change the name as shown on the certificate, unless the registrant presents documentary evidence that the name was incorrectly recorded at the time of registration of birth. In order to prove incorrect recording, the documentary evidence should be the oldest document available, preferably a hospital birth worksheet or other record created very soon after birth, that proves the correct name.
 8. A certified copy of a court order from a court of competent jurisdiction will be required to amend any items on the birth certificate that were based upon a Voluntary Acknowledgment of Paternity signed and sworn to by the parents.
- (b) The State Registrar shall evaluate the evidence submitted in support of any amendment and, when he finds reason to doubt its validity or adequacy, he may reject the amendment and in writing shall advise the applicant of the reasons for this action.
